Six From This County Injured Near Xenia

Residents Of Near Jeffersonville In Xenia Hospital

Six Fayette County people were injured, one critically, about 2 A. M. Sunday in an auto accident near the Trebein Tavern, west of Xenia. William Wilson and his wife, Katherine, Fred Wilson and wife, Freda, and Rufus Hopkins and a former wife, Alice Hopkins, according to reports from the Xenia sheriff's office, were in a 1950 Ford car, traveling west of Xenia, when the driver, Fred Wilson, lost control of the vehicle as it struck a small bump in the road near a curve. The car was badly damaged and all occupants injured. Some of those in the car were reported to have been drinking. The car is said to have left the road and was damaged.

All of those in the auto were rushed by ambulances to the Greene County Memorial Hospital at Xenia.

Rufus Hopkins was reported to be dangerously injured with a possible skull fracture, scalp lacerations and his left hip dislocated.

The two Wilson men are brothers and their wives are sisters, it was stated. They live in the same house, 2½ miles north of Jeffersonville on the Harold Road. The men are said to be farm laborers.

According to reports from Jeffersonville, Rufus Hopkins lives on the George W. Blessing farm near Blessing's Crossing north of Jeffersonville. He is said to be operating the farm.

The sheriff's office at Xenia reported that hospital attendants considered the condition of Hopkins as being very grave.

Advisers Of Ike And Adlai All Confident Of Victory

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 — (AP) Chief advisers to the two major presidential candidates started out the week Monday on exactly the same footing—each was completely convinced his man is a cinch victor in the Nov. 4 election.

Herbert Brownell, who managed Tom Dewey's ill-fated campaigns in 1944-48, said in Denver he was optimistic over Republican Dwight Eisenhower's chances and said he considered Illinois to be the only real doubtful state on the list.

In Springfield, Ill., Wilson Wyatt, Democrat Adlai Stevenson's campaign manager, declared that the Illinois governor will win on a great surge of support from the independent voters.

Brownell said he believed both California and Ohio would go for Eisenhower, which would give him the electoral votes which these states gave to President Truman four years ago.

Brownell went on to say he had talked to Dewey before going to Denver and that both he and Dewey believed "things are going exactly as planned."

HE ADDED that Eisenhower had "lived up to the things" he and Dewey had predicted he could do for the party.

Eisenhower headed into the home stretch drive for the presidency Monday by pointing his final appeals toward the Democratic Southland and the vote-rich industrial East.

His campaign caravan took off by plane at dawn for appearances in Casper and Cheyenne, Wyo., Tulsa and Oklahoma City, Okla., and finally a night speech in New Orleans.

Tuesday, Eisenhower pushes into Texas, where rebellious Democrats led by Gov. Allen Shivers have pledged their support in a move that has placed the Lone Star State among the doubtful states.

Shivers is expected to introduce Eisenhower at some of his stops. Wednesday, Eisenhower will make stops at Memphis and Knoxville, Tenn., before returning to New York and a campaign into some of the Eastern industrial areas.

Associates of Stevenson believe the Democrats have Eisenhower on the run. This view is shared by almost all of the Democratic presidential nominee's advisers. A number of Democrats have publicly voiced their optimism.

Arkansas has predicted that the Illinois governor will carry the South and the border states. Secretary of Labor Tobin says Eisenhower will pay the price of losing New York for embracing Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and William E. Jenner of Indiana, detractors of Eisenhower's old friend and military preceptor, Gen. George C. Marshall. Wyatt said National Committee members and volunteer workers indicate there is a wave of desertions from Eisenhower's cause.

He said that "I Used to Like Ike" groups were being formed because of "disillusionment" with the general's campaign tactics. This "disillusionment," he said, is "based on compromises, shifts of position and abandonment of principles that they felt before were emphatically held by him."

Time Nearing To Mail Yule Gift Overseas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 — (AP) — Got your Christmas shopping just about done? You better get busy, if it's for the boys in Korea.

Wednesday opens the official overseas Christmas mailing season for the armed forces and the Post-office Department has amended its long-standing "mail early" to add: "The earlier the better."

If your package is going by surface transportation to Navy or Marine Corps personnel "serving in the most remote areas," the department strongly recommends a mailing by Wednesday to assure Dec. 25 delivery.

For the forces in Korea, Japan and other Pacific islands, the postal authorities say: "Mail as early as possible, preferably not later than Nov. 1."

Outside of the Far East, packages surface-mailed before Nov. 15 can be "reasonably sure" of getting there on time.

If you are going to use air parcel post, your gift should be on its way no later than Nov. 25. But don't try to send a Morris chair or a television set this way. Unless it's an official shipment, air parcels to the armed forces are limited to a size of 30 inches, length and girth combined, and in weight to two pounds.

Surface parcel post packages going to the armed forces abroad may range up to 100 inches in size, length and girth combined, and in general weigh up to 70 pounds. However, there is a weight limit of 50 pounds on shipments to about 12 Army postoffices in Europe.

Costa Rica Chief Cleared In Probe

SAN JOSE, Oct. 13 — (AP) — Cheering thousands welcomed Otilio Ulate Blanco back as president of Costa Rica Sunday.

Ulate stepped down from the presidency Sept. 26 in the midst of a controversy over the conduct of five Costa Rican police officials. Later, Vice President Alberto Oreamuno, acting chief of state, told Ulate a congressional investigating committee had given him the administration a clean bill of health and the charges against the police officials were "unfounded."

Rok Riflemen Halt Drive On Vital Mountain

Communists Carry Satchel Charges In Ill-Fated Thrust

SEOUL, Oct. 13 — (AP) — Frenzied Chinese suicide troops with demolition charges tried to blow a hole in the Allied defenses on White Horse Mountain Monday night, but South Korean gunfire mowed them down short of their target.

A front line Allied officer said the fanatical Reds with satchel charges and bangalore torpedoes, charged up the north slope in complete disregard of their own lives.

They fell with their charges exploded.

At the same time two Chinese platoons jumped off in a futile attack. The South Koreans drove them back, then launched an assault of their own. At last report they were pushing up the slope of one of three knobs the Reds captured earlier in the day.

As the savage battle for White Horse entered its eighth day, the South Koreans were in firm control of the commanding crest.

THE "STAY! FIGHT!" troops of the Republic of Korea (Rok) 9th Division prepared bunkers and threw up entrenchments in confident anticipation of renewed Chinese assaults. A front-line officer said Rok positions were in better shape than they had been since the big battle started almost a week ago.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, predicted the savage fighting for the vital high ground commanding the sprawling Chorwon Valley may taper off. He said the Chorwon area has been a sensitive part of the front "but I don't think it will be any longer."

Despite Van Fleet's optimistic words, soldiers at the front did not feel the struggle for White Horse is over. One officer said: "We'll probably be able to tell in the next 24 hours."

South Koreans estimate the Reds have lost more than 10,000 killed or wounded. Elements of three Chinese divisions have been used in the bitter struggle.

The fighting on and around White Horse was still the main action along the 155-mile battlefield. To the east, a smaller but still bitter fight raged over possession of an outpost position. Chinese took the position in savage hand-to-hand battle last night. UN troops stormed back Monday morning.

ALLIED warplanes, tanks and artillery poured a shattering rain of high explosives on Chinese positions around White Horse.

Chinese bodies, covered with frost, littered the slopes.

The air war kept pace with ground fighting. The Far East Air Forces said UN warplanes flew 1,422 sorties in virtual round-the-clock operations Sunday. This is the second highest 24-hour total of the Korean war.

Twenty-six B29 Superforts from Japan and Okinawa Sunday night pounded a concentration of more than 3,000 Red soldiers, poised for possible front-line duty. The troops were massed on the Haeju Peninsula on Korea's west coast.

Swift F86 Sabre jets tangled with Communist Mig15s near the Yalu River Sunday. The Air Force reported four Red warplanes destroyed and two damaged. That brought the two-day toll to 10 destroyed and two damaged.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 — (AP) — The public debt rose $2½ billion last week, to $264,811,550,399, the highest point in six years.

Space Travel Experts Give Opposing View

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 — (AP) — A modern Columbus predicted Monday man will go sailing through space in only 10 to 15 years, but another rocket expert says we're nowhere near it.

The go-slow on space travel dreams was sounded by Wilson W. Rosen, director of the Viking Rocket Project, Naval Research Laboratory. He declared he has a "down-to-earth attitude about space travel after six years' work at the White Sands Proving Grounds in New Mexico where rockets have been shot to heights of 250 miles.

But, he says, we don't know enough about lots of things to send men up in rockets to explore and travel through space with any real degree of safety.

Another expert declared that in 10 to 15 years we could have a man-made satellite whizzing around the earth at an altitude of 1,075 miles, with 80 to 100 humans aboard it.

The authority is Dr. Werner von Braun, technical director of the U. S. guided missiles development group in Huntsville, Ala., and the scientist who developed the German V-2 rocket in World War II.

From this satellite, he said, we could take off in rockets to the moon or elsewhere in space.

Mrs. Raymond Trout, 236 Draper Street, has a spineless cactus which has just put forth a huge, star-shaped blossom after having been cared for over 10 years.

The plant itself is one of the largest of its kind ever grown in the county and while it is one of the more common kinds, it is one of the first known to bloom.

The blossom was 10 inches or more across from tip to tip of the petals, and was a creamy tinge streaked with maroon.

Many people have called attention to the fact that former Fayette County Engineer Charles A. Ferguson resembles the Republican presidential candidate, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Ferguson said the first time he had been mistaken for "Ike" was four years ago while he was riding a train to the Philadelphia national GOP convention. During that trip a stranger approached him on the train and said "Pardon me, are you the general?"

Reds Rap U. S. In Plane Case

Yanks Say Bomber Unarmed In Attack

MOSCOW, Oct. 13 — (AP) — Russia has charged that a U. S. B29 bomber shot at Soviet fighter planes over Russian Far Eastern territory Tuesday and said the Red pilots returned the fire. The incident occurred the same day the U. S. Air Force reported one of its Superforts missing off Japan.

A Soviet note to the United States, formally protesting the alleged border violation, said the American plane "disappeared in the direction of the sea" after the Russians shot back.

The text of the note was published by the Communist Party newspaper Pravda and was broadcast by Radio Moscow.

In Tokyo, a U. S. Air Force spokesman said the missing American plane "carried no guns and no gunners" among its crew of eight. The Air Force previously had announced the bomber, flying a training trip, was last seen on a radar screen within Japanese waters. It disappeared from the screen when its path crossed that of an unidentified plane approaching from the Russian-occupied Kurile Islands, officers said.

THE SOVIET note charged that the U. S. bomber "violated the Soviet state frontier" Oct. 7 in the "area of the island of Yuri." Yuri is one of the Kurile Islands, 18 miles from the northernmost Japanese island of Hokkaido.

The American craft fired on two Soviet fighter planes that ordered it to land, the note continued, and "when the Soviet fighters returned the fire, the American plane disappeared in the direction of the sea."

U. S. Air Force officers in Japan said their last contact with the plane that disappeared Tuesday was a distress call.

A crewman was heard to shout, "Let's get the hell out of here," just before the bomber vanished from the radar screen.

At that time, they said, the plane was in Japanese waters flying over the narrow strait between Hokkaido and the Kuriles. Search planes later found an oil slick in the area where the plane disappeared.

The commander of the Japan Air Defense Force said Russian planes are tracked daily on radar at his base and that the Soviet craft "from time to time" fly over Japanese waters.

Brig. Gen. Delmar T. Spivey said approaching Russian aircraft sometimes cause alerts at his base. "Sometimes our planes take off on alerts and sometimes we just sit tight to see what will happen," he said.

3 POWs Injured

PUSAN, Oct. 13 — (AP) — The Prisoner of War Command reports three Communist POWs were injured slightly Sunday by UN guards enforcing an order to a prisoner work party to return to its compound.

Jersey Prison Quells Fourth Riot In Year

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 13 — (AP) — About 20 knife-wielding convicts barricaded themselves in a wing of Trenton State Prison Sunday night in a two-hour riot that was quelled by machinegun blasts.

Two prisoners were injured by ricocheting bullets fired over the rioters' heads by correction officers who smashed through a barricade of stools, tables and wooden scaffolding.

Three guards had been held as hostages, but were rescued unharmed in this fourth major outbreak in the prison this year.

The rebel convicts, described as "extremely desperate" long-termers, holed themselves up in Wing No. 7 upon their return from their evening meal, and, after locking 300 fellow inmates in another section, tried saving their way to freedom, one of the hostages said. But they gave up in their escape attempt when their makeshift hacksaws failed them.

Shouting defiance to prison officials, the rebellious band proceeded to break up portions of the wing. But a preliminary examination of the cell block showed that there was no serious damage.

The door to the wing was forced partially open by correction officers, and one of them managed to squirm through. He was covered by machinegun fire. Other guards followed and forced their way up each tier of cells.

Atom Spy Pair Denied Hearing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 — (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday denied a hearing to atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, the husband and wife sentenced to die for giving American A-bomb secrets to Russia.

The denial lets stand unchanged the conviction and death sentence of the New York City couple and puts them another step closer to execution in the electric chair in New York's Sing Sing prison. Their death sentence is the first ever imposed in peace time by a civilian court in this country for espionage.

Wife of Nixon Is Pat in Team

Campaign Trips Admittedly Tiring

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
SACRAMENTO, Calif.—(AP)—Day after day, Patricia Riley Nixon sits beside her husband on his exhausting tours. And when he gets up to speak, there is always mention of "Pat and I."

The audience sees a slim, pretty woman with friendly brown eyes and light auburn hair. It's a close partnership, anyone can see, between the former high school teacher and the rising young lawyer who grew up just eight miles apart—but didn't meet until both were in their 20s.

Yes, she says, she finds it tiring on the road and she misses the children. But the Nixons have worked together from the start to promote his career.

The thin-faced, rather shy woman helped pay her way through the University of Southern California (class of '37) by doing research and grading papers along with a part-time job in a department store.

SHE TAUGHT commercial subjects at Whittier, Calif., high school from 1937 to 1941. When her husband was stationed at Ottumwa, Ia., during World War II—he was a Navy officer—she worked as a bank teller. During the time he was in the South Pacific, she was a government business economist in San Francisco.

Pat Nixon was born at Ely, Nev., March 17, 1913, which makes her two months younger than Nixon.

The Nixons met in 1938. When Nixon had established himself as a lawyer—ambitious but not getting rich at it—they were married June 21, 1940. It was a Quaker ceremony. As a child she attended Lutheran and Methodist churches but now goes to the Friends Church with her Quaker husband.

Both of the Nixon youngsters are girls. Patricia—or "Tricia"—is 6. Julie is 4.

Their white brick seven-room house, furnished in contemporary style, is located in the fashionable Spring Valley residential area of Washington.

The Nixons haven't had much time for anything but his career. This is their fourth campaign in six years. They seldom go out socially and they entertain modestly.

When political pressure eases, Pat Nixon likes to sew and work outdoors in the garden. They have moved about considerably since their marriage, and she has always made their draperies and slip covers.

LAST YEAR she even found time to take in an adult education course in millinery. She dresses conservatively.

Mrs. Nixon says she was "tremendously surprised" when she heard that her husband had received the vice presidential nomination in July. There had been reports before then that the California senator was being considered but, she says, "I didn't take it seriously—neither did Dick."

With two friends, she left the convention hall to get a sandwich during the interlude that followed the nomination of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to head the GOP ticket.

"We were watching a grade D movie on television," she recalls. Suddenly a commentator cut in with a news flash that my husband was being nominated.

"I had just taken one bite of my sandwich. I dropped it and rushed back to the hall."

It's been a dizzy whirl ever since for a woman who declares "I don't care for the fanfare of politics." And, says Pat Nixon, if she ever decided to write a book about her campaign experiences, she has her title picked out.

The title: "I also ran."

She's Perfect Back Seat Driver, Auto Racer Says of His Wife

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—The Sunday driver who weaves his way through a couple hours' traffic with the needling, grinding backseat voice of his wife in his ears and thinks life is tough is hereby advised to stop beefing and consider Wojciech Kolaczowski.

Kolaczowski recently concluded one of the most astonishing chores of modern times—when he drove in a 2,000 mile race through France, Italy, Switzerland and Austria . . . with his wife sitting next to him all the way.

How did Mr. Kolaczowski and Mrs. Kolaczowski get along, for 2,000 miles? "We had quite a few arguments," he said today with a philosophical grin. "But who doesn't?"

Mr. K., once a well-known motorcycle race rider in his native Poland and other parts of Europe, now sells English automobiles in a Park Avenue showroom here. In July he and Mrs. K. decided to take a unique vacation—by driving in the celebrated European Alpine Rally, one of the most rugged over-the-road racing events in the world.

WHEN YOU RACE in the Alpine Rally, the important thing is not where you finish, but if you finish. More than 100 cars were entered in the 1952 event and only 23 finished—including the Sunbeam-Talbot driven by Mr. K.

"Do not get the idea," Mr. K. said, with great charm and a cheerful accent, "that Wandy, my wife, was any burden to me. 'Au contraire.' It was her duty to read the maps and give me the directions. Her importance cannot be over-emphasized."

Mrs. K. actually wasn't the only woman in the race; there were a number of others, most of whom helped relieve the male drivers at the wheel, which she did not.

The big item in racing in a rally, such as the Alpine, is finishing the tortuous course in the prescribed time limit—not before, not after.

Every 50 miles or so along the road you are checked for time, and if you are two minutes early or late, you are penalized.

Ten of the Alpine finishers this year came in without penalties. Mr. K. had several small penalties.

The course itself is outlandish—from Marseilles to Cannes, through villages, over mountains 10,000 feet high, along one-land roads, etc., so that to average 40 an hour you occasionally must do 100.

MR. K., THE FIRST American ever to finish in the Alpine Rally, is a onetime Polish, French and English Air Force member who has been spending his spare time since coming here a few years ago in discovering American roads. He has an opinion on them: beautifully built—but monotonous.

"I am here, as you say, a Sunday driver," he said with a smile. "So much traffic I never have seen. In Europe, I should say 90 percent of car owners are wealthy men. In America, figures show nearly every man of driving age say, 16 to 60—has a car of his own."

"The American roads—they are good but not attractive. The Pennsylvania and New Jersey Turnpikes, for instance, are engineering marvels and terribly dull to travel. In Europe, on the other hand, I doubt you could find one mile of straight road—but it is all much more picturesque."

Community Chest Drive Gets Underway Tonight

The 1952 Community Chest campaign in Fayette County will get under way officially tonight (Monday) at 8 P. M. when all volunteers—solicitors, division chairmen and Chest board members—get together at the Dayton Power and Light Company's auditorium for the "kick-off meeting."

Last minute instructions will be given the Red Feather volunteers who begin Tuesday the campaign to raise $13,000 for the support of the eight agencies who are participating in this year's Community Chest of Washington C. H. and Fayette County.

Charles Reinke, Chest president and Perse E. Harlow, executive secretary, will be in charge of the brief program. Light refreshments of cider and doughnuts will be served following the meeting.

Community Chest headquarters will be established Tuesday morning by the Chest secretary at the First Federal Savings and Loan office. The headquarters office will be open daily to receive funds collected by the nearly 300 volunteers working on this year's campaign.

This is the largest staff of volunteer workers the Community Chest has had in its four years of fund drives here. One of the big reasons for the increase is the fact that the Chest goal has been raised slightly over last year's goal. Increased costs of operating the Community Chest agencies made a $500 increase necessary this year.

The various division chairmen felt that with more solicitors covering their assigned territories fewer contacts would have to be made by each worker who donates his or her time and effort to help put the fund campaign over the top.

nity Chest campaign—made their appearance over the week-end. Big Red Feather flags were placed on light standards in the business district and posters were placed in store windows all over the city. A large thermometer has been erected on the Court House lawn and the daily progress of the fund drive will be registered as the solicitors turn in the money they have collected. The campaign officials hope that the goal almost can be reached before the week is finished.

Miss Gretchen Darlington and Dr. C. R. Griffiths are the co-chairmen of the Community Chest campaign this year. Heading the all important business and special gifts section is John Wylie. Miss Mary Frances Snider is the residential chairman and her four ward chairmen are: Miss Norma Dodd, Mrs. John Case, Jr., Mrs. Charles Fults and Miss Florence Cook. John Breiner is again in charge of the industrial solicitation.

Mrs. Donald Denen is the general rural chairman and she has appointed the following township chairmen: Wayne—Mrs. Wilbur Hoppe; Concord—Mrs. Jean Nisley; Jasper—Mrs. Floy Ferguson; Marion—Mr. Omar Rapp; Perry—Mrs. Russell Grice; Madison—

Mr. Lawrence Grim; and Union—Mrs. Gerald Stephenson. Mrs. D. E. Mossbarger is chairman for Bloomington and Mrs. Roy Thompson is in charge in Paint Township. Miss Maude Routson is the general chairman for Jeffersonville and Jefferson Township. Miss Gladys Melson is in charge of the solicitation among the teachers in the city school system.

ONE OF THE important campaign divisions in the Community Chest is the Employee Group solicitation. Prior to the beginning of the regular Chest drive Tuesday, a campaign has been conducted in several business and industrial plants in Washington C. H. Employee chairmen in the various businesses have conducted a full campaign among their fellow workers.

These same workers are then urged to take their window stickers which they have received and place them on their front windows in their homes. "Then the residential solicitors see these stickers, they will know that person has already given to the Community Chest and so, will not make a second contact."

Employee chairmen announced to date are: Kenneth Johnson, Armco D&MP; Tom Dowler and Ed Bennett, National Cash Register; Wilford Keller, Pennington Bakery; J. W. Wallace, First National Bank; Mrs. Clara Lee Markley, Ohio Bell Telephone; Mrs. June Ramey, Record-Herald; Wayne Bower, Brandenburg Motor Sales.

Road and Street Improvements and Parking

Reports from all sections indicate that adequate roads and adequate parking space for the rapidly increasing number of automobiles, present twin problems that are not being successfully met in 90 percent of the localities of the country.

Even with our roads in Fayette County in better than average shape, there still remains road improvement problems here that plague our officials.

In this city of Washington C. H. there is a huge amount of street improvements needed according to those who have been making inspections of our city street conditions.

In the nation at large it is predicted that by 1960 there will be 60,000,000 passenger automobiles, compared to the 44,000,000 now in use on the highways. In 1946 the number was reported at 26,000,000.

It is obvious to most observers that road construction and additional parking facilities are not geared to the rapid increase.

Highway authorities say the United States is short by 100,000 miles of building the streets and roads it ought to build to maintain a minimum pace of convenience and safety.

All cities have more automobiles cruising the downtown areas than can be parked. Chicago is spending $8,000,000 to house 2,359 cars underground in the downtown area and admits this is a fantastically small number compared to the need.

What is required is the expenditure of billions of dollars to keep services abreast of numerical increase in motorcars, but the money is not available, and will not be available, until war and preparation for war require less outlay and manpower.

But the increasing number of automobiles will result in more casualties on inadequate roads and growing anger over inconvenient city facilities before modern highways and parking facilities are provided to meet the demand. If that happy state ever is reached, that is.

Another Crisis?

Word from Washington is that another crisis is building up. Britain's gold and dollar reserves have fallen considerably below the $2,000,000,000 considered a minimum safety figure. To save dollar reserves, the British government is cutting down imports, with resultant reduction in the living standard of the people.

The Churchill government is growing less popular. If the Labor party gets back in power, Aneurin Bevan, who is apparently more friendly to Russia than to the United States, may become head of the government.

There is strong sentiment in Washington for rushing to the aid of the British, but policymakers are said to be reluctant to advocate such a step because of possible adverse effect at the polls in November.

There is speculation in Washington that the president might call both presidential candidates into conference to discuss the situation. If Eisenhower took the attitude that this is the president's own problem, he would be following the course pursued by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933 when he refused to cooperate with President Hoover when the bank crisis loomed.

The administration is reported to have decided on several different aids if the situation worsens. It includes:

A loan of $3,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000.

Greatly increased purchases of arms in Britain.

Heavy purchases by the United States of British oil, rubber and tin.

Lower tariffs to permit more British exports to the United States.

Lady Bountiful Has Troubles

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—How would you like to earn a living giving away money?

Sound easy?

It has its problems," says Janice Gilbert, who is known as "Miss Moneybags" in the entertainment world.

In the last seven years she has handed out more than $2 million to contestants as the paying teller of "Break the Bank," one of the pioneer radio and television quiz programs.

The trouble with this otherwise pleasant chore is that many in the audience fail to realize Janice is merely a paid performer, dishing out the sponsor's dough. They persist in regarding her as a privately wealthy "lady bountiful" with a philanthropic urge to shower her own money on people who are able to give the name of the national anthem or tell who killed cock robin.

"It is weird—really sometimes frightening," she said.

Three times she has had to change her telephone number because of the people who call her up—sometimes in the middle of the night—to ask for financial help.

Last year she received requests for aid from 327 charitable agencies, including "an organization to help waylaiders in Arkansas."

High-pressure salesmen also mistook her for a brunette gold mine.

"One tried to sell me a $21,000 town car," laughed Janice, who can't drive an automobile and walks to work from the subway.

"Another was miffed because I wouldn't buy an island off Florida."

But Janice, who acts in from four to eight soap operas a day besides her quiz show stint, and her husband are sinking their savings in a new home they call "Break-the-Bank" because that's what it did—it broke our bank account.

At the start of each show she stuffs up to several thousand dollars in her handbag. Two bodyguards and a watchdog stand by to forestall any possible bandits who might try to seize the cash without bothering to answer the questions on the show.

"I still get a real thrill out of seeing someone win who really needs the money," she said. "The most I ever gave out was $11,840 to a corporal who had been crippled in Korea."

Once she became so nervous she tore up $500 in bills, another time bit her tongue so sharply she had to go to a hospital. In other misadventures she has been clawed by a raccoon, nipped by a monkey and insulted by a non-housebroken hen used to illustrate queries on the program.

Still another time, told to "bring out the next animal," she blithely opened a cage and started to lift out the occupant—a wild ocelot. Its trainer screamed a warning.

"I just thought it was a big cat," said Janice. "It could have taken my arm off, but all it did was lick my hand."

Giving away a fortune in cash over the years has taught her a lot about people.

"The shyest, most introspective people are the real hams at heart," she said. "Doctors, oddly enough, are the biggest show-offs. And what worries most people isn't how much money they'll win. They fret over whether their friends will think them dumb if they miss an easy question."

Janice said an agent from the Bureau of Internal Revenue usually stands by to check the names and addresses of all winners.

"Often he asks them if they want to pay their income tax right then and there," she said. "But so far as I know everybody always says, 'No, thanks. I'll figure it out later.'"

Cinerama Is Something Different

By George Sokolsky

It is not too often that one sees something that is altogether new and different. That is what happened when I went to Lowell Thomas's "Cinerama." Frankly,

I could not imagine, in advance, what would be so different a movie.

"Cinerama" is not the same as a movie because it is not on a flat surface, just as life does not move on a flat surface. It is three-dimensional, but that is not quite the description because, while you sit in the theater, you are also part of the life which goes on before you on the complex screen. The projection is not limited to the stage; it makes each viewer a participant.

Now, that is something new. It did not exist before. I am old enough to have seen the earliest motion pictures. I recall the stereoscopic slides which preceded it. The change from one to the other was not as startling a performance as "Cinerama." We had seen flat pictures in one form or another, even some kind of motion pictures, viewed in a penny slot machine. But no one had ever seen "Cinerama" before. That is as new as the electric light and the radio when they first appeared.

The younger generations accept everything, new in their stride. They did not witness the transition from the Welsbach Mantle to the early electric lights. Suddenly, the whole world seemed to change. It was like that when the first automobiles altered our streets and roads and produced a horseless age.

I could not help thinking of the broader aspects of this new development. The motion picture industry has been hit terrifically hard for several reasons: Television, the poor quality and high costs of pictures, the separation of production companies from theater ownership, public resistance to writers, artists, actors, etc., who have had Communist affiliations or take advantage of the Fifth Amendment. But what has struck at the industry hardest is public weariness with the sameness of pictures. If one has to see a western, it is as good or as bad on television as in the theater, and television requires less effort. The resurrection of vaudeville on television gave the amusement industry fillip which the movies could not equal.

The public relations and advertising schemes of the motion picture industry can do them little good. The arguments set forth for the industry are unimpressive because, after all, no one has to go to a movie theater. The very large houses, the movie palaces, over the country are particularly in trouble because their overhead is so enormous and the people expect more than can be provided.

"Cinerama" may save this industry. It is an entirely new form of entertainment and its possibilities are without limit. For instance, the travelogue is no longer the cold, drab, lifeless animated picture. Whether one views the majesty of the Rockies or the beauties of Venice or the gorgeous colors of the Everglades in Florida, or even an airplane flying through clouds everything is alive, vivid, full. Nothing is flatter on the screen than it is in life itself.

The possibilities of this new device in the dramatic presentation of scenes, persons, movements, emotions are infinite. It could save this industry. It could fill the large theaters.

Louis B. May made the point to me that the ingenuity of the American mind is never to be discounted. He recalled when the sound was added to the American motion picture, it was a crude device. In "Cinerama," sound has achieved dimensions and clarity almost to the point of fidelity.

What this will do to television, it is hard to say. Television has the great advantage of being in the home. It can be turned on and off at will. But it can also become a nuisance. Children quarrel with adults. Some want the lights on; some want them off. Rules have to be made as to television during dinner, which can upset a little girl no end and make her regard her mother as a mean, old crow.

The theater has the advantage of being occasion, of being a relief from daily humdrum. But then, it must be that and not a repetition of boy meets girl in another costume. This three-dimensional device, in color, with sound, involving audience participation, may bring folks and particularly children, back to the movie palaces.

Diet and Health Symptoms Can Lie In Some Ailments

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Occasionally a woman, thinking she has become pregnant, visits her physician for a check-up only to be told she is not pregnant at all. The usual outward signs of pregnancy are the result of other causes, often emotional. This is known as false pregnancy.

We might think this condition must be very rare. Yet we are told that it happens perhaps once in 250 pregnancies, on the average.

How can a false pregnancy occur?

Hormones Cause Changes

The changes in the mother's body during pregnancy do not result simply from the growing child, but also from hormones produced by glands and poured into the blood. Normally, these glands are influenced by the growth of the child, but other forces may act on them the same way.

Certain emotional conflicts, it is believed, can directly influence the pituitary gland in the brain, which controls these hormones, and thus produce a false pregnancy.

Most of these women notice that their monthly periods stop, or become irregular. They also show the breast changes that occur with pregnancy, and may even describe movements of the baby. Often, however, they think they feel these movements earlier than the normal time, which is in the fourth month.

May Even Fool Doctor

Sometimes the changes in the woman's body are so conclusive that they may fool the physician for several months.

Usually it will be discovered that such a woman is harboring a conflict between a normal urge toward motherhood and a fear of pregnancy. Such fear can be produced by stories about pregnancy and false notions associated with it, often through improper upbringing in childhood. A false pregnancy may develop in a family situation where children are desired, but the wife is unable to have them.

Symptoms Disappear

Pregnancy tests and a careful physician's examination will, of course, reveal the true nature of a false pregnancy. Usually the woman has learned the results of the test, and the true reason behind her condition is explained to her.

Sometimes male hormones may have to be given to help in the treatment, and the womb must be scraped in certain cases. The individual's mental problems can usually be resolved under the guidance of a physician or of a psychiatrist.

Truman Wants Strike Held Off

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—President Truman is keeping a threatening nationwide transportation strike on political ice until after Nov. 4 for fear of its adverse effect on the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket's chances. It will be the slickest coup of the campaign, if it works.

In expectation of a favorable post-election settlement through White House intervention, labor leaders have so far acquiesced in the scheme, although they have been complaining because the dispute has dragged on for more than two years.

However, the railroad unions involved have been reminded by John R. Steelman, presidential labor adviser, that Truman wanted a victory for Philip Murray's steelworkers on the eve of the Democratic convention, even though it required the sacrifice of former Defense Mobilization Charles E. Wilson. He resigned after he regarded the Presidential wage boosts as inflationary.

Besides Truman and Steelman, a key figure in the controversy is George Harrison. A prominent leader in railroad union circles he also heads the labor division of the Democratic National Committee.

CLOSED SHOP—The nonoper-ating railroad unions—the machinists, yardmasters, dispatchers, roundhouse and repairmen—demanded a closed shop as far back as 1950. When the railroads balked, Truman appointed an emergency board to hear the dispute. David L. Cole, whose writings and activities reveal him as an extremely pro-labor, was named chairman.

Last February, the Cole group recommended a union shop on the railroads. This action had and still has a chain reaction. It was immediately cited by the Wage Stabilization Board as a precedent for establishing the closed shop in the steel industry.

Cole has since been made chairman of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, succeeding the able and lovable Cyrus Chang.

Although Murray did not obtain a completely insulated shop, the eastern railroads signed such an agreement, largely as a result of Truman's support of that provision. The White House naturally felt that this action would force other lines to follow suit.

But the Western and Southeastern roads refused to be intimidated by Washington. They announced their refusal to discuss the closed shop issue on Oct. 3-4. More than 450,000 workers are involved in these two groups. If they walk out, the nation's transportation system will be paralyzed in the midst of the campaign.

PRESSURE—In view of this stalemate and the lack of any progress in the negotiations for two years, George E. Leighty, who represents the employees, has talked of staging a walkout. He has become annoyed by Truman Steelman insistence on delay.

But union and political leaders are exerting tremendous pressure on him and his associates. They are urging him to postpone drastic action until after the votes are cast and counted.

In view of the steel strike's had effect on civilian and defense production, and charges that Governor Stevenson has "sold out" to labor, a pre-election transportation tieup might be politically fatal. It would demonstrate that Truman's partiality to organized labor was no safeguard for the public. Those are the obvious implications.

Should the unions comply with the White House request for a strike postponement, and if Stevenson should be elected, labor leaders understand that they will be rewarded in some way for their forbearance.

INCIDENT—General Eisenhower's ordeal of campaigning in a strange field has been lightened by numerous incidents like that which he describes as the post-war careers of "the politician and the paratrooper." It occurred when the Republican nominee was undergoing his television "beauty treatment."

"A man came around on the train," Ike explains, "and said: 'General, I must put some powder on the top of your head so that it won't shine on television.' He announced himself as the makeup artist assigned to me."

"Then he began to laugh and he said to me: 'General, I was in your 101st Airborne Division that dropped . . . and then he named all the battles in which the 101st had fought—a magnificent division, as every veteran of the fighting in Normandy knows."

"Then he began to laugh again and said: 'Haven't you and I come to a pretty pass—you a politician and me a makeup artist?'"

NOT SAFE—President Truman's offers of post-presidential employment—writing, lecturing, teaching, etc.—are extremely disappointing to the egotistical man in the White House. Few newspapers or colleges seem to want to invest heavily in his ex-presidential wares.

When he announced his retirement, there was a wave of offers. But it is understood that few of the competitors are willing to lay heavy money on the line, apparently figuring that his publicity value will disappear quickly with any change of Administration.

Important Facts About PACKARD'S PROVED POWER BRAKES

Outstanding Advancement in Car Control
Sets New Standard of Motoring Safety

NOT SINCE 1924—when Packard was first to offer four-wheel brakes as standard equipment—has there been so important a contribution to driving and safety as Packard Power Brakes!

Proved faster acting, far easier to apply and completely safe at all times, Packard Power Brakes give you quicker, smoother stops with 40% less foot pressure—as thousands of Packard owners have already learned through hundreds of thousands of motoring miles!

You don't even have to take your foot off the floor to use them. You merely pivot your toe from the accelerator to Packard's low-level brake pedal. This alone cuts 29% from the average time it takes to apply brakes! Gentle toe-tip pressure is all that Packard Power Brakes require.

First power brakes on any passenger car that you don't have to lift your foot to apply, proved Packard Power Brakes use engine vacuum to produce 40% of the braking effort and to assure a normal "feel" to pedal action. They give you smooth, straight-line stops every time.

The only car with these proved power brakes, today's great Packard offers you another braking exclusive in its Safi-Set Parking Brake. This convenient hand brake is either "ON" or "OFF"—it can't be accidentally left halfway on to cause brake lining wear when the car is moving.

SEE, COMPARE AND DRIVE A PACKARD before you spend $2500 for a car. Only Packard gives big-car comfort, performance and safety at medium-car cost and economy. And remember—"Built like a Packard" means built to last!

Bad Dams Are To Be Rebuilt By The State

Faulty Work Proves Expensive To Many Ohio Taxpayers

Three poorly constructed dams which have been held unsafe, are to be rebuilt by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, including one in Pickaway County.

Plans for development of twelve Ohio public park and recreational areas by the department and its cooperating divisions were announced today by Director A. W. Marion. The plans include the rebuilding of three of five dams which were either breached or abandoned in 1950 when it was feared flood damages might result from unprecedented flood waters.

These dams were found to be unsafe due to poor construction as a result of inadequate engineering. They were constructed during the immediate post-war era, prior to the enactment of Senate Bill 13 which created the Department of Natural Resources resulting in the coordination of all seven divisions which are now a part of it.

Lack of close coordination among agencies operating independently at the time engineering and construction of the five dams was undertaken was largely responsible for their poor design and faulty construction.

The three dams, previously condemned but which are to be rebuilt are Knox County, Hocking County and Hargus Creek, the latter located in Pickaway County. The two dams which will not be rebuilt, at least not in the immediate future and probably not at their present locations are Pater Lake in Butler County and the Morgan County lake. However, major park and lake development projects are planned for areas in close proximity to these two dams.

Pater Lake dam was breached in 1950 after inspection revealed it unsafe and too small in size in relation to the drainage area. Since that time and less than ten miles distant from the Pater dam site, a major state park development has been begun at Hueston Woods north of Oxford in Butler and Preble counties. This large forest area, some of it in virgin timber, will be the location for a 700-acre lake, a large group camp, central dining lodge, sleeping cabins and tent and trailer camping areas.

Approximately $650,000 has been appropriated for construction of a dam and partial development.

Politics Normal, Voice Tells World

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The Voice of America is assuring free world listeners the U. S. presidential campaign "is being conducted on a relatively high level."

The Voice advises foreigners not to be fooled into believing "the United States is tearing itself apart" because of the denunciations being traded by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Republican and Democratic presidential nominees respectively. Such fireworks are normal here every four years, the U. S. broadcast said.

Candidates To Arrive Here Wednesday

Republican County Committee Busy On Reception Plans

With eight Republican candidates for state office, including Charles Taft for governor, due to arrive in this city Wednesday, October 15 between the hours of 11:30 and 12:30 (noon), the Fayette County Republican Committee is hustling plans for a good reception.

This group is also reported to include Senator John W. Bricker, candidate for reelection to the U. S. Senate. It is making a county to county tour over most of Ohio, being called the state Republican caravan by some and the Taft caravan by others.

The speakers will come here in relays and each will speak briefly from the Court House steps, according to present plans. Loud speakers are being put in place so that everyone who comes to the Court House lawn may hear.

The Washington High School Band has been asked by the Republican county committee to furnish music during part of the time the caravan will be here.

The cars bearing the speakers are scheduled to arrive here from Circleville and will go from this city to Hillsboro.

The Republican committee is working to get as many people to the Court House as possible. Chairman Harold Finley says that it probably is the only chance most people will have to see all the Republican state candidates at one time.

easy way to modernize your favorite table lamp for improved lighting

Convert . . . quickly, simply and inexpensively!

Poor, uncomfortable lighting is often caused by bare bulbs in old-fashioned lamps with narrow wire "harps" like the one shown in the "before" illustration. Narrow harps will not permit changing to the new, wider shaped bulbs that give soft, comfortable, diffused white light.

Now you can change harp and all in a few minutes and bring modern lighting efficiency to your old lamps.

The new type bulbs are scientifically shaped for good lighting and have their own diffusing surface built right into the bulbs, doing away with the need for a separate diffusing bowl.

For complete instructions for converting your old lamps to new beauty and new eye-saving lighting efficiency, phone for The Dayton Power and Light Company Lighting Advisor or send the coupon today for free folder.

Garner Gives His Support To Stevenson

DALLAS, Oct. 13.—A pencil-scratched note from rugged old John N. (Cactus Jack) Garner Monday bolstered Texas Democrats battling to keep the state in line for Adlai Stevenson.

The former vice president, one-time power in national and state politics, wrote House Speaker Sam Rayburn here that he would vote the Democratic ticket Nov. 4 from top to bottom. It was Garner's first public dip into politics since he retired as vice president more than a decade ago.

Stevenson follows Eisenhower to Texas with speeches at Ft. Worth and Dallas Friday and in San Antonio and Houston Saturday.

Rayburn came back to Texas to ramrod the Democratic battle after the party's state convention under Gov. Allan Shivers' leadership repudiated Stevenson and urged all Democrats to work and vote for Eisenhower.

Spartans Loom Now As Top Team In U. S.

Michigan State's 18 Wins Look Good As Major 11s Topple

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(P)—With the unceremonious demise of Princeton, the mighty Spartans from Michigan State own the longest winning streak in college football—18 games—and they show no signs of letting up there.

Maryland and Georgia Tech each have gone through 18 games without defeat, but they've been tied.

Michigan State still has six games to play so it's rather early to be predicting another undefeated season for them, but if they perform in the manner they did Saturday in hanging a 48-6 pasting on Texas A and M, their future opponents are not going to look to the Spartan games with any enthusiasm.

State still has to meet Syracuse, Penn State, Purdue, Indiana, Notre Dame and Marquette.

UNTIL IT TOOK a 22-19 beating from Pitt, Notre Dame probably would have been regarded as a threat to Biggie Munn's lads, who next year start operations in the Big Ten. But the Irish looked bad against the Panthers.

Maryland and Georgia Tech continue to roll along, and neither should be pressed to any great extent this week against, respectively, Navy and Auburn. The Terps polished off Georgia, 37-0, and Tech stopped Tulane, 14-0, Saturday.

California, which has piled up a staggering 152 points in four games, seems assured of winning the Pacific Coast Conference title, although it still must get past Southern California and UCLA.

Wisconsin, the class of the Big Ten, and No. 1 team in the country in last week's AP poll, was the victim of the biggest upset of the season Saturday. Ohio State soundly pasted the Badgers, 23-14.

That made it a brand new race in the Big Ten, although there still is nothing to prevent Wisconsin from winning it. On paper, the Badgers still can field the most potent squad in the loop. However, Purdue, which trounced Iowa, 41-14, in its last outing, stands at the head of the class with a 2-0 league record.

PRINCETON'S 13-7 defeat at the hands of Penn, strangely, was not a surprise. The Quakers were known to be powerful while Princeton, without the services of the graduated Dick Kazmaier, was an unknown quantity. Penn now should have no trouble sweeping to the league crown, held the last two years by the Tigers.

The Kansas-Oklahoma-Nebraska battle for the Big Seven probably ended Saturday when Nebraska's hard luck kid, Bobby Reynolds, was hurt during the Cornhuskers' 27-14 triumph over Kansas State. This should narrow the race down to Oklahoma and Kansas, who meet head on this week.

Both warmed up to their tasks Saturday, the Sooners manhandling Texas, 49-20, and Kansas annihilating Iowa State, 43-0.

In the traditionally mixed up Southwest Conference, things are traditionally mixed up. There isn't an undefeated team in the loop, which leaves things right back where they were in the beginning of the season, with defending champion Texas Christian still the choice by default.

The Horned Frogs go against Texas A and M this week. The conference goes into full-scale operations Saturday, so the picture should be cleared somewhat in a week or two.

IN THE ROCKY Mountain Conference, the eventual champion probably will be decided this week when Idaho State and Colorado State, the two top powers, tangle in Pocatello. Houston is the surprise leader in the Missouri Valley, after clobbering the defending champion University of Tulsa, 33-7.

Georgia Tech might get a tussle from Alabama and Tennessee for the Southeastern loop title, while Duke heads the Southern Conference, although Virginia remains unbeaten, too. The pair tangle in two weeks.

Ross County Deer Hunting Is OKd

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13 — (P)—The Ohio Wildlife Council has added Ross County to its deer hunting list.

The council said Ross was listed originally among counties where deer hunting will be permitted but was left off of the official list by error. Twenty-seven Ohio counties now are on the open list. The 1952 season opens from Dec. 11 through Dec. 23.

FRED BRUNEY (12), OHIO STATE defensive star, leaps high to deflect a pass away from the University of Wisconsin's Jim Temp (82) and into the hands of teammate George Rosso (47), to set up Ohio's first score early in the opening drive. A tremendous crowd of 80,345 fans packed Ohio Stadium at Columbus as the Buckeyes dimmed Wisconsin's Rose Bowl hopes with a stunning 23 to 14 upset.

Giants, 49ers Pacing Pro Gridders in Lossless Roles

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 — (P)—The New York Giants and the San Francisco 49ers, boasting the only unblemished records in the National Football League, now rank as the sole leaders of their respective divisions.

The Giants moved into undisputed possession of first place in the American Conference by defeating the Cleveland Browns, 17-9, Sunday, while the 49ers were thwarting their most formidable challengers, the Detroit Lions, 28-0. The victors now own identical 3-0 slates.

For the last two seasons the Giants and the Browns have battled for conference supremacy with the Cleveland forces emerging triumphant each time. New York has gone since 1946 without capturing a division title. The Giants managed to tie Cleveland in 1950, but the Browns took the playoff game, 8-3.

Sunday's game was the acid test for both clubs and the New Yorkers made the most of their opportunities to grab the vital conflict. The rivals will clash again Dec. 14 in New York in the season's finale for both.

THE GIANTS' stubborn defense, bulwarked by the stellar line play of Arnie Weinmeister and Bill Albright, completely stifled the Cleveland ground game. The Browns only could gain 21 yards rushing, although they picked up 236 yards passing.

Three field goals by Lou Groza, one a 52-yard effort, kept the forces of Coach Paul Brown in contention as Cleveland led, 9-7, at the end of three periods. The Browns' field goal specialist sustained a head injury during the game and said afterward he could not remember any of his kicks.

The Giants bolted ahead in the final stanza on Ray Poole's 25-yard field goal and then they iced the contest when Tom Landry intercepted an Otto Graham aerial and pranced 30 yards for the decisive tally.

San Francisco's almost impregnable defense held the Lions to a net gain of 65 yards. Elusive Hugh McElhenny, the rookie from Washington, and rugged veteran Joe Perry compiled most of the ground-gaining yardage for the bruising 49ers.

Other scores Sunday: Chicago Cardinals 17, Washington 6; Chicago Bears 38, Dallas 20; Los Angeles 30, Green Bay 28; Philadelphia 26, Pittsburgh 21.

Big 10 Race Now Viewed Very Close

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 — (P)—A fan backing any one of seven Big Ten football teams can now claim with some justification that his particular favorite had a good chance for the conference title.

The Big Ten is in its fourth week of league competition but no team has yet been able to establish a clear-cut claim to the crown. Neither could any team—with possibly two exceptions—be counted out.

Weekend events, topped by Ohio State's startling upset of Wisconsin 23-14, proved anything can happen this year.

Purdue, the Big Ten's only undefeated team, came off a 41-14 conquest of Iowa after the conference standings with two wins.

Michigan turned back Indiana 28-13 and Minnesota edged Northwestern 27-26.

Saturday's upheaval left Indiana and Iowa the only two conference teams defeated twice.

Illinois and Ohio State, both licked once, have something of a statistical edge over Purdue and once-beaten Wisconsin. The Illini and the Buckeyes play seven games, the other two teams six. That means if Ohio State or Illinois lost only one game to, say, Wisconsin's one, the team playing seven games would be the titlist.

NCAA Panels Meeting To Ponder Video

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(P)—With a recent Notre Dame blast at college television policies still resounding, two committees of the NCAA met Monday to work over TV and other plans for the future.

A four-day general policy going over was in prospect. Besides the television problem, the committees planned to take up such things as post-season competition and alleged nonobservance of NCAA rules by at least three of its members.

Names of the schools involved in the reported infractions have not been made public.

The committees on hand are the NCAA Executive Committee and the NCAA Council. The overall purpose of the meetings is to shape various reports for final action by the NCAA Convention in January.

Notre Dame spokesmen say they have learned a "share the wealth" TV program is being prepared by NCAA bodies. They say the plan would split money received in the association's controlled video program among all members.

Edward Moose Krause, Irish athletic director, condemned over the weekend any such move as "immoral, illegal, unAmerican and socialist."

Asa Bushnell, director of the organization's television program, said no "share the wealth" plan has been presented by the TV Committee. However, he said a "partial distribution of excess (TV) receipts" has been mentioned as a future possibility.

Mulloy Grabs Mexican Title

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 13 — (P)—Third seeded Gardner Mulloy, 38-year-old veteran from Miami, is en route to the United States with another tennis trophy in his possession—the Pan American tournament men's singles crown.

Mulloy climaxed his upset triumph Sunday by defeating second seeded Art Larsen of San Francisco, 7-9, 8-6, 7-5, 4-6, 7-5. Shirley Fry of Akron captured the women's singles title by defeating Mrs. Thelma Long of Australia, 6-4, 6-4.

Carter Favored To Top Salas

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 — (P)—Jimmy Carter figures that he is all but a cinch to regain his lightweight title from champion Lauro Salas Wednesday night in Chicago Stadium.

Odds makers have established Carter the favorite for the 15-round nationally televised (CBS—10 p. m. EST) match at anywhere up to 3-1. Carter took the crown away from Ike Williams in May, 1951, and lost it to Salas in Los Angeles a year later.

Spectator Is Hurt at Track

Stock Car Races Here Sunday

Buell McBrayer, a spectator at the stock car races held Saturday night by the Four City Racing Club on its track west of Washington C. H., was injured when a wheel flew off the car driven by Eugene Timmes during the fourth race.

Timmes was riding high on the track and his car went over wall causing the wheel to come off the speeding machine and shot into the crowd of spectators.

McBrayer was rushed to Memorial Hospital in the Gerstner ambulance. He suffered a dislocation of the right knee. Monday morning, McBrayer was reported in satisfactory condition. He may be released late today.

No Waste In Federal Spending? Take A Good Look At This

In spite of President Truman's effort to "pooh-pooh" the charges of waste in federal government, day by day investigators keep turning up new evidence of some ridiculous spending and utterly thoughtless planning.

Here are just a few of the things picked out of the records and this number hardly scratches the surface in discovery of things that have been happening:

If you want to get rich quick work for the federal government. The Atomic Energy Commission paid plumbers $756 a week and laborers $250 a week to build its Nevada A-bomb test site.

Paul Douglas, Illinois Democrat Senator, is authority for this one. "If three men are needed to do a certain job, the U. S. State Department will employ from 12 to 15."

Heavy U. S. trucks and tractors almost given away as surplus in Europe have been brought back here and resold at top prices, sometimes even to the United States government.

Did you know that ECA money had been used to stimulate gambling? In 1950 ECA provided funds to rebuild a gambling casino at Le Havre, France.

Over the years the Department of Agriculture has thrown away three quarters of a million dollars in an unusual way. It leased its Farm Credit Administration warehouses to private operators for $231,000 and then rented them back for $945,897 to be used to store government grain.

Senator Byrd, Virginia Democrat, a staunch fighter for economy in government, said last December that the Department of Defense could drop 150,000 civilian employees and save $500,000,000 a year without any loss of efficiency.

The Army and Navy believe in ample supplies. Last February, a House sub-committee found the Army had enough front axle gaskets for jeeps on hand to last 104.1 years. The Navy had enough anchors for 50 years.

Did you know we have to pay the South Korean government to transport troops and supplies to the front to fight to save Korea. We do, and it costs almost $10,000,000 a month. We pay them to let us fight to protect them.

The government wastes one dollar out of every ten it takes in through taxes. If this waste was stopped it would amount to enough to take everyone earning less than $4,000 a year off the tax rolls.

Our Army Signal Corps has been paying 37 cents for the same electric light bulb you buy for a dime. This is just one example of waste in the armed services.

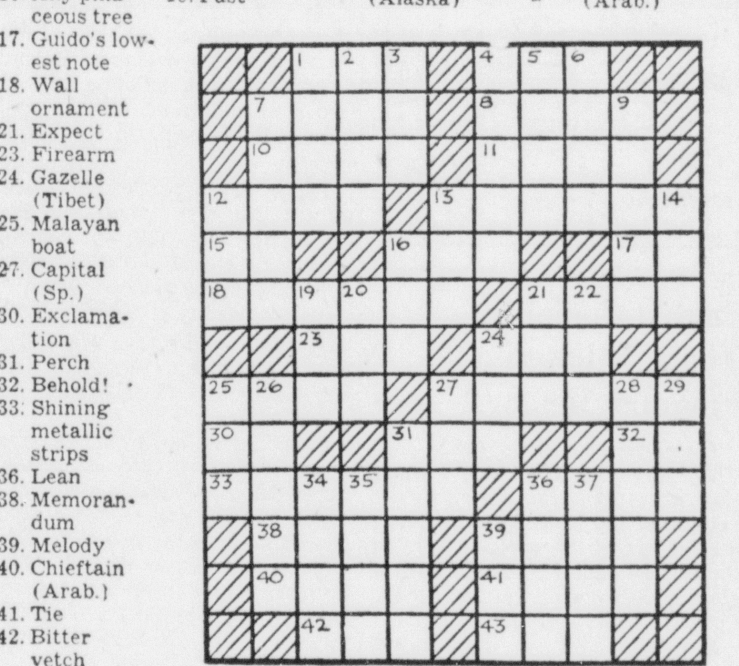

PREPARED for a bitter custody battle, Mrs. Lynn J. Moorhead, 23, enters a Los Angeles courtroom with her four-year-old son, Elliott IV. Her husband, Air Force Captain Elliott Moorhead III, who is fighting for exclusive custody of the boy, charges that the former New York model seldom prepared the child's meals. (International)

Green Township Community Circle Discusses Plans

The Green Township Community Circle enjoyed a fine program at its regular monthly meeting at the Town Hall at Buena Vista.

After a potluck supper, the program was furnished by pupils of the Chase School of Dancing.

The program was as follows: Fast Waltz, Sandra Atkinson; Sophisticated Rhythm, Gayle Johnson, and Sharon Penrod; Dinah, Rita Miller; Advanced Rhythm, Sue McDonald; Dance 34 time, Bobby Creamer; Is you Is or Is you Ain't, Barbara Creamer and Judy Smith; a Soft Shoe Moderne, Janet Ritter. Those present expressed much pleasure in the entertainment.

The business meeting was in charge of the president, Mr. Delbert Morris. Routine business was taken care of. A report was given that the projector for the school had been secured, also the basket ball and basket ball equipment.

It was voted to furnish the dining room with new curtains and to purchase a duplicating machine for the school. Mrs. Verne Roghm, Mrs. Charles Theobald and Mrs. Lester Stephenson were appointed to purchase these items.

Harry Rife, president of the Green school district board of education was introduced and presented the facts in regard to the $65,000 bond issue to be voted upon in the coming election. He stated that we could not expect our children today to use the facilities which were used years ago when the present school was constructed. He said a more modern school is needed for the modern way of living. The cost would be more in any other district than in Green because it already has a very low levy and no indebtedness.

Other members of the board gave short comments in regard to the issue. Many questions were offered and answered.

Further plans were explained by the committee in charge of the carnival to be held at the school on October 30, with the same activities as usual. A meeting of the committees is scheduled for October 21, at the school. Every member of the Community Circle is asked to be present at the meeting.

Plans for the Christmas program also were discussed and some thought was given to the sponsoring of a minstrel later in the school year. The Community Chest campaign was called to everyone's attention, and all present were to help with the drive.

The committee in charge was, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Dowler, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Jed Stuckey, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. John Dowler, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Dowler, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cockerill, Mrs. Clara Belle Patton, Mrs. Laura Patton, and Miss Hazel Patton.

Friday Night's Game Tickets Placed On Sale

Big Crowd Expected To Go To Wilmington For Crucial Contest

Tickets for the Washington Hi-Wilmington Hi football game at Wilmington Friday night, may be purchased in advance at Richard Gillen's Drugstore, beginning this (Monday) afternoon. There will be a limited number to be sold.

E. Wayne Titus, principal of Washington High School, said that the Wilmington Stadium has a seating capacity of 2,000 and there should be plenty of tickets for the followers of the Blue Lions.

The gates at Wilmington will open around 6 P. M. and Washington C. H. fans who have purchased tickets at Gillen's will be admitted to the parking lot located on Thorn Avenue to the right of the high school which is on Locust Avenue.

In case the fans start coming early to the game, officials of the Wilmington High School said that they would open the gates earlier. There will be no charge for parking automobiles.

Last week, Gillen sold 750 tickets in advance to the Hillsboro game.

The game Friday evening could go a long way in deciding the winner of the South Central Ohio League championship. All of the SCO League teams, with the exception of Washington High School, has either lost or tied a league game. Hillsboro suffered its first defeat of the season at the hands of the Blue Lions Friday, 60 to 6.

Wilmington tied Greenfield in a SCO battle Friday night, 13-13. The Lions smothered Greenfield, 46 to 0.

Wilmington has lost two games, won two games and tied one.

Firemen Respond To Pair Of Alarms

Two alarms were answered by firemen, Saturday afternoon, one on Route 38, some six miles out, and the other at 115 South Main Street.

The one on Main street was to flush gasoline that had leaked from a car and caused a dangerous situation if the gasoline had ignited.

The other was a truck owned by Ray Coe, which had ignited some clothing and other property in the truck burned, with a total loss of about $350. Firemen expressed belief that a cigaret had caused the fire. The driver said he thought the truck had backfired and started the blaze.

Firemen used the tanker truck to extinguish the fire.

True plants must have light to exist.
